OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

Seeking Trade Relations with Other Countries—The Jesuits Estate Bill.

British Columbia Gets Less than Her Share—General Gossip at the Capital.

From Our Own Correspondent.]

Ottawa, Ont., July 19.—In my last letter I referred to the fact that the Dominion government had sent a commissioner in the person of Hon. J.J.C. Abbott to Australia for the purpose of furthering trade between this country and that colony. A customs official, most probably Mr. Parmalee, will follow him. Since that time the government have called for tenders for a steamship line to run between Canada and the West Indies and South America. The terminal points in Canada will be St John and Halifax. The tenders are required to be in the hands of the Finance Minister not later than the 31st of August. Many people imagine, and believe rightly, too, that while it is a most desirable thing to encourage the trade between ourselves and distant countries, it is still more important to cultivate, instead of harassing, trade relations between the Dominion and its next door neighbors, the people of the United States. The removal of a Chinese wall which a protective tariff has placed between Canada and the States would do far more benefit to this country than any amount of subsidies to steamship lines trading between our ports and distant lands. That the people will realize this before many years have past, is morally certain. In the meantime the government is too closely allied with the monopolists and combinesters to make any great effort to secure better trade relations between ourselves and our neighbors.

DALTON M'CARTHY.

Dalton McCarthy has at last spoken. The great champion of Protestant rights in this province, that is if his own word can be taken for it, is the member for Simcoe. During the last general elections for the province he sided Mr. Meredith and the Toronto Mail in assailing Hon. Oliver Mowat for his alleged alliance with the late Archbishop Lynch and the Roman Catholic hierarchy. That he was badly worsted in the combat is now a matter of history. Ever since that time he has kept up his tirade against the French language in the public schools, and the tendency of our provincial legislators to be governed by the wishes of the priesthood in their dealings with school matters. Mr. McCarthy having taken this stand in provincial politics could not evade partaking in the Jesuit question when it came up in the Dominion parliament. That he would have preferred not doing so, out of deference to his chief, the premier, is well understood. From the parliament the agitation went to the country. Dalton McCarthy gazed speechless at the struggle. A great convention was held in Toronto, and Mr. McCarthy was invited but did not attend. He was also invited to Montreal but did not put in an appearance. The Equal Rights association was organized and its constitution adopted without the aid of the member for Simcoe, the at one time leader in such a movement. It was all right with Mr. McCarthy to attack Mr. Mowat for imaginary grievances, but Sir John Macdonald ought not to be interfered with, even if he was guilty of first incorporating the Jesuits and next allowing a bill granting them state aid. The press and the people had so much to say about Mr. McCarthy's silence that at last he consented to address a meeting at Stayner in his own riding on the 12th of July, on the Jesuit question. The portion of the speech which referred to this subject was similar to the one he delivered in the House of Commons, but the greatest part of what he said was a condemnation of Mr Mowat on the school question. Mr. McCarthy is receiving too much government pap to turn against Sir John Macdonald.

LESS THAN THEIR SHARE.

Any one who has taken the least trouble to enquire into the composition of the civil service, both inside and outside, would have noticed that as far as British Columbia is concerned its people have nothing like a fair representation. Like Manitoba and the Northwest, British Columbia has been used as a preserve for politicians in the east where they may place their needy relatives and reward their deserving supporters. If an inspector of fisheries is required for the province a British Columbian is not accepted, and New Brunswick or Nova Scotia is resorted to for a competent officer. If an inspector of inland revenue is required an eastern man is sure to be appointed to the position. It is this in every department of the service. While all the other provinces are well represented in the various departments at Ottawa, one will look in vain to find any of the employees come from the Pacific slope. No one will say that this is due to any lack of ability on the part of western men to fill the positions which from time to time become vacant at home or at headquarters. The whole fault lies with your representatives in parliament. It is a well-defined rule that the representative of a constituency, if his politics are the same as the government, has a right to the patronage of the riding he represents. If the member be in opposition then the defeated government candidate has the dispensation of patronage. But, as I have frequently shown, British Columbia representatives never assert their political rights either in parliament or out of it, and consequently the government does as it pleases without even consulting the member for the constituency wherever any change in officials or new appointments may take place. The only exception to this rule is where a member may be after a position and appoints himself as the most capable of filling it. There are instances where your members have rebelled against the government when they did not get all that they personally desired, but as yet there is nothing on record to show that any representative from British Columbia refused to vote with the government because to do so was detrimental to the best interests of the province. This is a matter which needs ventilation.

GENERAL GOSSIP.

The appointment of Hon. Mr. Lynch as judge to the Superior Court in Quebec, gives general satisfaction. His promotion will be a loss to the opposition in the Quebec Legislature.

On the 8th of August the Jesuits Estates Bill becomes law. Lord Stanley will receive delegations as to the disallowance of the bill on the 2nd of August in Quebec.

The vice-regal party will visit British Columbia about the end of September.

The only ministers in town to-day are Messrs. Bowell and Dewdney. All the others are holiday making.

THE ROYAL DOWERS.

Labouchere's Amendment Rejected by a Vote of 398 to 116.

London, July 26.—Bradlaugh delivered his speech in the Commons to-night against the proposal to increase the allowance to the Prince of Wales. The veteran radical spoke with more than his accustomed vigor, and was listened to with rapt attention throughout. He began by saying this subject was one which ought to be discussed calmly and dispassionately, and it was his earnest desire to discard all personal or party feeling of prejudice. It was indeed difficult for him to approach the question in a proper spirit with the words of Balfour at Salisbury yesterday ringing in his ears. That gentleman had certainly gone out of his way to embitter this discussion by denouncing the objection of those who stood with himself in this issue, as disgusting and sordid. He would not attempt to emulate that gentleman's adjectives, but would simply say he was sorry to see that the first man to drop the venom of partisan rancour and prejudice into this discussion should be a prominent member of the government. The opponents of the government were greatly misunderstood if they were credited with personal discourtesy to the members of the Royal Family. They certainly meant no such thing. They had an undoubted right to oppose the demands of the crown on finance questions, and if there ever came the day when members were prepared to abrogate these rights and were content to merely record the wishes of the Sovereign, he hoped at heart that they would be left some last vestige of sense with which to recognize their own uselessness, and disband at once. He denied the statement so often dinned into their ears, that the English Monarchy had surrendered their private property in exchange for the civil list. Neither George I. nor his successors ever surrendered anything. The present Royal Family had never surrendered a farthing to the country. A parliamentary committee of inquiry had found that the savings of the present reign under certain clauses of the civil act, instead of being applied to defray charges under other clauses, as the act provided, had been handed over to the Queen without the authority of parliament, and in direct violation of the state. The first lord of the treasury, continued Mr. Bradlaugh, denied that the savings of the Queen were over £3,000,000 as was claimed. He declined to tell the House what the figures really were. More than this, the hon. gentleman declines to let us know what sum the income of the royal family amounts to from all sources, evidently deeming an inquiry into this subject impertinent curiosity. In all fairness, he said, is it not our right when our royal dependants come to us for more money, on the plea that to maintain their dignity more is needed, to be given facts to enable us to judge whether it is needed or not? There ought to be nothing concealed. The secrecy heretofore observed may have led to exaggerations, but this is natural and ought to have been expected. The refusal of the government to disclose the proportion of wealth asked by the royal family alone justified the aversion of the country to increase the allowance they now enjoy.

Lord Randolph Churchill followed Bradlaugh, and defended the government's demands. Bradlaugh, he said, had questioned the title of the crown to the lands which had been given up in exchange for the civil list, but successive parliaments had recognized this title, and no great lawyers had ever challenged it. He reminded the House that they were not without an official denial of the wild statement which had been made about the Queen's fortune. It was only a few years ago that the Queen's private secretary, Sir Henry Frederick Ponsonby, had denied the reports of the Queen's immense investments in ground rents, saying Her Majesty had not a million invested in anything. He was convinced that the Radicals overestimated the Queen's wealth with a purpose. It was their desire to excite popular feeling against the members of the Royal Family.

After considerable further debate, Labouchere's amendment was put to a vote, and was rejected by 398 to 116.

Morley has formulated an amendment which he proposes to offer on Monday. It is to the effect that the house is unwilling to increase the burdens of the people by voting additional sums to the Royal Family without some assurance that no further claims will be made for the younger members thereof.

Gladstone, Morley, Harcourt, Parnell, O'Brien and the bulk of the Liberals and Parnellites voted with the majority against the amendment. The minority included Mr. T. P. O'Connor, Richard Chamberlain and Sir George Trevelyan, besides all the Radicals.

THE GOLDEN WEDDING.

Brilliant Reception to Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone—Wild Enthusiasm.

London, July 26.—Over 2000 guests attended the reception given by the National Liberal Club this evening on a terrace overhanging the river, built for the purpose. The reception was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone in commemoration of their golden wedding, and was a most brilliant affair. There were many peers of the realm, members of the lower house, and others, in most cases attended by their ladies. Viscount Oxenbridge, on behalf of the club, presented Mr. Gladstone with a commemorative album, a most elaborate affair, the work of many leading artists. To the viscount's address Mr. Gladstone replied in an eloquent speech, which was filled with pathos. He said that he felt he was drowned in an ocean of kindness. If it were true, as the gentleman so kindly stated, that he had served England well, he could only say he deemed it a noble calling to serve such a people. He hoped that all present would partake in a full measure of the blessings belonging to them as Britons and as Christians. He left the terrace amid wild enthusiasm.

CARIBOO ELECTION.

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir,—Your correspondent, "Bull Puncher," writes of the recent election at Clinton, where there was a triangular contest for the M.P.-ship. Disappointing as the result of that election was to all parties who were tired of machine politicians, the Cariboo district is entitled to little or no sympathy. The idea of there being three men in the field in a sparsely settled district like Cariboo was absurd, and the electors are as much to be blamed as the candidates. When they saw that there was going to be almost as many candidates for parliament as there were electors there should have been a pooling of issues on whichever of the candidates was regarded the best man. Nothing of the kind was done, however. The electors pulled three ways for Sunday. The fault of the defeat lays with them, and if Barnard and the Express Company succeed in getting a bill of sale of every mother's son of them they will not succeed in extracting much sympathy from other parts of the province. Too late to kick, "Bull Puncher," Barnard and Stere have got the "dead mortal cinch" on you, and perhaps next time you fellows are given an opportunity to elect a member of parliament you will not make such egregious asses of yourselves.

RANCHER.

THE KNOT IS TIED.

The Earl of Fife Takes the Royal Princess for Better or for Worse.

A Brilliant Ceremony—Magnificent Trousseau—Royal Gild on Everything.

By Postal Telegraph.]

London, July 27.—All London turned out bright and early this morning to witness as much of the royal wedding as possible for those not born in purple. Though the weather was dull and the sun obscured, the streets in the vicinity of Buckingham Palace and those through which the various bodies of the bridal party were to pass, were thronged with thousands of people in holiday attire. White flags and decorations lent a festival appearance to public and private buildings in general. All features of the ceremony were performed as promptly as could be expected, when so elaborate a programme was to be carried out.

The son of the Prince of Wales and party were the first to arrive at Buckingham Palace, accompanied by the Crown Prince of Denmark, Prince Albert Victor and Prince George of Wales, and magnificently uniformed officers of the Prince of Wales' household who drove to the palace in state carriages drawn by richly caparisoned horses, at half-past eleven and were received with hearty cheers by the vast throngs gathered about the palace entrance. Here they awaited the arrival of the Queen, and the Earl of Fife with his cousin and best man, Horace Farquhar, who made their appearance at 11:50. The Queen was attended by all great officers of state and officers of her household with the exception of the Lord Chamberlain, who was excused from attendance on account of bereavement by the loss of his third son. The Queen's party with an escort of Royal Guards, made a brilliant spectacle. The Earl of Fife was dressed in full Highland costume of his clan.

Just at noon the Prince of Wales, accompanied by the bride, drove up in the state carriage used by the Queen on occasions when she has opened Parliament in person. The procession to the chapel was quickly made up, and moved in a gorgeous array to the doors, which were thrown open at their approach. When inside the chapel the Queen was escorted to a royal seat prepared for Her Majesty. The Earl of Fife took up his position at the right of the altar and the Princess Louise of Wales at the left, while the march from Tannhauser pealed forth from the great organ. It was a sight long to be remembered. The chapel itself had been elaborately decorated for the occasion. The stalls and seats for the bridal party were upholstered in rich crimson, while the walls were hung with blue and French grey draperies. The Doric pillars were garlanded by festooned roses and other flowers and floral pieces were on every hand. These various embellishments made an admirable background for the superb toilets of the court ladies, and the brilliant uniforms and regalia of the various officers of the court. The bride herself was dressed in white satin with duchess train of the same material fastened to her corsage and the bodice was cut in V shape, not low. The collar was of the Medici style and the sleeves, which reached to the elbow, were trimmed with rare old lace. Her wreath of orange blossoms was fastened at the left shoulder and carried across below the right about the waist, and serving as a decoration to the skirt of her gown was another wreath of orange blossoms. The veil was of point-de-gaze. The bridesmaids gowns were of point faille, of a delicate blush color.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, the Dean of Windsor, the Bishops of London and St Albans and sub Dean of Chapels Royal, who were to officiate or assist in the ceremony, and who had been waiting within the altar rails since 11:45, began service at 12:15. The bride was given away by the Prince of Wales. At the close of the ceremony the Bishop of Canterbury addressed the newly married pair in a few happily chosen words. The service was full choral and the music which included a wedding anthem expressly composed by Mr. Joseph Barnetby, was under general direction of Dr. Bridge, organist of Westminster Abbey, assisted by Mr. Jeykll, organist of chapel royal of St. James, and the choir of the latter. At the close of the services the Queen and the Princess of Wales advanced to the altar rail, and meeting the newly wedded pair, kissed the bride. Then, as the organ broke forth into Mendelssohn's wedding march, the procession was again formed to the drawing room, where the marriage register was signed and attested by the signatures of the royal wedding party.

The wedding breakfast followed in the state dining room, the guests being seated in the supper room with the Earl of Fife and his bride and the royal breakfast being served in a separate room with the Queen. The toasts were: "The bride and bridegroom," and "The Queen." When the guests arose from the breakfast the bride and bridegroom were escorted by the Prince and Princess of Wales, the King of Greece, Crown Prince of Denmark and officers of the household of the Prince of Wales and returned to Marlborough House via Constitution Hill, Piccadilly and St. James' street. The streets through which the procession passed were packed to their utmost, and at every point from which a view could be obtained, with vast throngs who cheered the royal couple again and again and manifested every form of delight at the sight of the beautiful and happy bride. On the route the sun showed itself at intervals and added to the enjoyment and festivity of the occasion. It was noted that the whole ceremony was extraordinarily free from delays or mishaps of any sort and this is largely attributed to the precise programme which had been drawn up for the ceremony in all its details. Everyone knew before hand exactly his or her place in the procession, and function, so that each event followed with absolute smoothness.

A JOYOUS EVENT.

London, July 27.—To-night dinners will be given in various parts of London by the greatest notables. Loyal subjects of the Queen cannot celebrate the wedding of a favorite princess every day so they are making the most of the occasion and there will be gayety in many west end mansions to-night. The common people also take a deep interest in the event and the daily newspapers devote a large amount of space to a description of the gifts and details of the ceremony.

WANTS HIS COMMISSION.

New York, July 27—An attachment has been granted on the property in the estate of George Tompkins, of Niagara, Ontario, in the suit brought by Byron W. Anderson, of this city. The latter claims he made an arrangement with Tompkins to sell the Victoria hotel property at Niagara Falls. The sale was effected for $80,000 and Anderson claims $1500 as commission.

DALTON M'CARTHY'S POSITION.

A Demand Made That Sir John Repudiate Him.

Toronto, July 27.—The World this morning has the following: "Some people imagine that an understanding exists between Sir John Macdonald and Dalton McCarthy in regard to the attitude of the latter on the Jesuits estates bill and that in fact there is a put up job between them notwithstanding that McCarthy in his late speech at Stayner repudiated any such relations. Information received in Toronto on Saturday from Montreal is to the effect that French-Canadian Nationalists who are supporters of Sir John are pressing him to repudiate McCarthy in the same way that he was compelled to repudiate the Mail newspaper just before the last Dominion general election. They contend that as McCarthy is president of the Ontario Conservative union the Conservative party are responsible for his course and speeches unless Sir John Macdonald either in a speech, in a letter, or through the editorial columns of the Empire (held the official organ) repudiates McCarthy. Another object of the Quebec Nationalists is to force McCarthy, if possible, to resign the chairmanship of the Conservative Union of Ontario and to force the Empire to come out against a gentleman who took a prominent part in its formation.

THE EQUAL RIGHTS DELEGATION.

Ottawa, July 27.—There will be fifty delegates from the Equal Rights Association of Ottawa and district to meet the Governor-General at Quebec on Aug. 2nd. Nearly all the number have already been chosen and have accepted. The railway companies are going to run special trains for the accommodation of the thousands of delegates who will attend from all parts of Ontario.

PIERCED BY A SWORD FISH.

Halifax, July 27.—The schooner Alpha has arrived at a French village, from the fishing banks, leaking badly. The vessel had been struck by a sword fish. A piece of the sword is still remaining, driven quite through the plank.

KILRAIN WAS DRUGGED.

A Newspaper Man Discovers the Plot to Defeat Him.

New York, July 26.—The Evening News gives the public this: "A letter received from a well-known newspaper man puts a new aspect on the result of the battle between Sullivan and Kilrain. The writer says: 'From information I have received and from investigations I have made, I am confident that Kilrain was dosed prior to his battle with John L. Sullivan, and later I will have the names of the parties who concerted the plot. The business was done at Richburg on Sunday on the eve of the fight Kilrain was given Indian hemp, mixed in jelly and the effects of the drug did their work steadily with the assistance of the torrid sun. One of the parties who put up the ring with Denny, a butler, has the secret and it is more than probable that he will expose the plot.'"

JUDGMENT AFFIRMED.

London, July 26—The Privy Council to-day delivered judgment in the appeal of St. John's vs. Central Vermont railway, and affirmed the judgment of the Supreme Court, dismissing the appeal with costs.

BANFF MINES.

Mr. McLeod Stewart, ex-Mayor of Ottawa, sailed for Canada in the City of Paris. He states that he has organized a company with £900,000 share and debenture capital to develop the Banff coal mines and promote other industrial enterprises in Canada. He says the production of a smokeless fuel on the Canadian Pacific is regarded as of much Imperial importance in naval circles.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Wrestling and Baseball—The Lacrosse Match This Afternoon.

The match at Beacon Hill this afternoon between the Victoria and Vancouver teams, was witnessed by a very large number of people. Promptly at 3 o'clock the players were lined up in the order given in last evening's TIMES, with the exception of one or two changes. Both teams showed up well, the Vancouver boys being in the pink of condition and exhibiting every evidence of hard training. The first goal was won by the Vancouver team in 15 minutes, through a fluke. Mr. Holly, of New Westminster, acted as referee. The second goal was won by Victoria in 5 minutes, and the third goal by the Victorians in ten minutes.

CAMERON ACCEPTS.

Cameron, who is in Vancouver, said last night that he would be perfectly ready and willing to make a match with McLeod immediately after he meets the Jap at Vancouver next Saturday.

M'PHERSON.

A Toronto dispatch says, "John D McPherson, champion shot-putter of the world, was this evening arrested on a warrant, charged with assaulting Charles Sodden, keeper of a flour and feed store on Front street."

CRICKET.

It was decided that the Secretary of the Vancouver cricket club be notified that the N. C. C. will play the return match at Vancouver on Saturday, August 31st, and that a challenge for a friendly game be forwarded to Victoria C. C. for a match in September.

BASEBALL.

The Nanaimo baseball club, at a meeting held on the "green" the other night, concluded to change their name, and will in future be known as the "Bradfords" of Nanaimo, after C. C. Bradford, who was among the first to start the game in that city.

The captain of the Wellington team and the Bradfords will meet at Halfway House on Monday afternoon to arrange matters and put up a forfeit for the prize of $100 which the clubs will contest for on Saturday, August 3rd, at East Wellington. The Bradfords will leave at 8 a.m. on Sunday on the sloop Rover to play a match game with the Gabriola baseball players.

WATSON'S FOOT RACE.

Tom Watson is training under Charles Smith, a local long distance runner. The Victoria boy is confident of giving the California runner a hard race.

HUMAN SACRIFICE.

The Doctrine Preached by Georgia's Pseudo Messiah.

Savannah, Ga., July 26.—The child which was sacrificed to the pseudo Messiah who has been working among the negroes of Liberty county, has just been discovered in a remote part of that county. The child was black, its throat was cut and its ears were missing. The negroes are possessed by a religious craze created by Orth's or Bell's preaching, and will not talk of the murder, but it is believed the parents did the killing. They are disciples of Father Christian, who preached frequently of human sacrifice. The coroner is investigating the case.

The negroes are in a lamentable state of religious frenzy. Edwin James, who is acting as the leader of the congregation since Orth was sent to the asylum ten days ago, appears before the audience almost perfectly nude when he preaches.

TO THE TIMES ONLY.

Lacrosse at Winnipeg—The Famous Ninetieths go Down Before the Winnipegs.

Another Suicide at Vancouver—Burning Gas Well at Sarnia and How Extinguished.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Winnipeg, July 27—A large crowd witnessed the city championship lacrosse match yesterday.

Winnipegs defeated Ninetieths two games to one.

WINNIPEG OARSMEN.

The Winnipeg oarsmen leave for Minnetonka regatta to-morrow. They have also entered for the National regatta at Pullman, Illinois.

JUDGMENT RESERVED.

Judgment in the Burke appeal case was reserved till Tuesday next.

SUPPOSED TO BE LOST.

A letter to United States Consul Taylor, at Winnipeg, from Sitka, Alaska, dated July 11th says: "Please be on the lookout for any news about the loss of a young man, Bruce by name, from Nebraska, on the Pacific glacier, near Muir glacier, Glacier bay, Alaska. He was correspondent for a syndicate (New York World, Chicago Tribune, etc.,) and is supposed to be lost in a crevice."

LAND SLIDE.

Sarnia, July 27.—Considerable trouble has occurred where the excavating is being done here for the St. Clair river tunnel. One large section of land, forming the side of the excavation, sank twenty feet, carrying with it a portable engine and a small building, burying two cars and covering the track.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Regina, July 27.—A private recruit from Winnipeg, named Hirsch, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself through the chest.

A PLUCKY PIECE OF WORK.

Windsor, July 27.—Some time ago vandals set fire to a gas well at Ruthven with a flow of ten million feet per day, and up to to day nobody has been able to approach within two hundred feet of it. To-day C. H. Merwin, clothed himself in asbestos and performed such work at the mouth of the well as will enable the owners to extinguish the fire. Merwin received a thousand dollars for the job.

THE NEW ARCHBISHOP.

Toronto, Ont., July 27.—The news of the election of Bishop Walsh to the archbishopric of Toronto was received with joy by the general Roman Catholic population of this city.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED

Of Mayor Hendry and Ald. Scoullar, of New Westminster.

Special to THE TIMES.]

New Westminster, July 27.—At a meeting of the city council held last evening, the resignation of Mayor Hendry was read and accepted. The council then passed a resolution expressing sincere regret that any circumstance should have arisen to deprive it of the able counsel and energetic assistance of a gentleman who has always enjoyed its fullest confidence and esteem.

The resignation of Ald. Scoullar was also read and accepted, and Ald. W. B. Townsend was chosen to act as mayor pro tem.

I. F. Poisson, ex-Mayor Dickinson and H. V. Edmonds are spoken of as probable candidates for the civic chair.

ANOTHER SUICIDE.

A Young Man, While Insane, Shoots Himself at Vancouver.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Vancouver, July 27.—At eight this morning the body of John Robertson, late of Regina, N.W.T., was found in the water at the head of the Moodyville lumber yard wharf. He had committed suicide with a revolver, the bullet having passed through his head, entering behind the right ear. The revolver was found at the edge of the wharf. He was about twenty-eight years of age, and evidently had been insane, as he had intimated to the police that parties were pursuing to kill him.

WRECK OF THE WEBSTER.

An Ill-Fated Craft—Sealers Will Enter Behring Sea.

A letter was received by Captain Nixon of Seattle from Captain Alger of the sealing schooner Allie L. Alger, dated at Sand Point, Alaska, July 2nd. This place is close to the entrance to Behring Sea. He stated that the Webster was wrecked on the 27th of June, but did not enter into the particulars. The crew of the Webster had arrived at Sand Point only a short time after the sealing schooner Mollie Adams, with Captain Solomon Jacobs in command, had sailed away from the harbor.

The Edward E. Webster's career in Pacific waters has been a rough one, and she has been caught in several storms and shorn of masts and rigging. On the voyage around Cape Horn she was caught in a gale and had her masts torn out, and had to put into Montevideo for repairs. While cruising northward after leaving Montevideo, she was caught a second time and lost some of her rigging. Again on an Alaska cruise she was caught in a gale, and had some of her masts carried away, and had to return to Puget Sound for repairs. She was, perhaps, the finest and largest of the great fleet of sealing craft now in northern waters. Her registered tonnage was 117.

When Capt. Alger's letter was written most of the American sealers were preparing to run down to Oonalaska to enter Behring waters. Capt. Alger asked Capt. Nixon not to become alarmed if he did not hear from him before November. He stated his determination of making a determined hunt and felt sure of success, providing Uncle Sam's revenue cutters would let him alone.

CHURCH NOTICES.

Rev. J. C. Cumberland, of Amherst Island, Lake Ontario, will preach in the First Presbyterian church to-morrow evening, Rev. D. Fraser in the morning.

Senator McDonald, of Toronto, will preach in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church to-morrow evening.

The Rev. H. L. Parker, M. A., of St. Luke's, Cedar hill, will preach at morning service in Christ Church Cathedral. Subject: Pila o's wife.

PANDORA STREET METHODIST.—The subject at the evening service by Rev. Mr. Starr, will be "The next greatest evil to the evil of the liquor traffic—the places of ill repute."

The true inwardness of the Persian minister Hadje Hassein Ghooly Khan's rather undignified exit from the United States comes to light in the statements of a friend of his in Washington. Hadje is homesick. He is a married man and is anxious to return to his family. He found in Washington a civilization to which he was not accustomed, and instead of sending for his wife and children, as he had at first intended, he began to lay schemes whereby he might gracefully return to his native land.

COUNTY COURT JUDGES.

There is evidently a hitch in the appointment of county court judges for British Columbia. The delay, we are credibly informed, is due more to the difficulty experienced by the Dominion government in its efforts to reconcile conflicting interests, or rather to decide between rival claimants, than to indifference on its part in regard to the necessity for prompt action. The TIMES is not an "official" newspaper, but it has frequently been able to give important "official" information to the public in advance of the government organs, and in every case its announcements have been substantially correct. We are now in a position to announce the names of the gentlemen recommended for county court judgships by the provincial representatives in the commons, and also by the British Columbia government. Our information is reliable, and although "unauthorized," it is made public in the interests of the people at large, and in the hope that a knowledge of what is being attempted by backstairs influence may have the effect of preventing an outrage on the community and lead to the selection of men who, by years' experience and education, will add respectability and intelligence to our judiciary.

It is proposed to appoint three county court judges. Several of the representatives of the province in the House of Commons, have recommended the following gentlemen for the position:

JUDGE HARRISON, for Nanaimo.
EX-GOV. CORNWALL, for Cariboo.
WM. WARD SPINKS, for Kamloops.

This is the member's ticket, and we understand they are pressing the "claims" of their nominees with all the diplomatic skill of which they are capable. It would perhaps be considered invidious were we to discuss the personal unfitness of either of the gentlemen whose names have been submitted as qualified to interpret the law and dispense even handed justice in the inferior courts of the province, and we will refrain from doing so. Probably your knowledge of the qualifications of the nominees is insufficient to base an objection upon, for we have to confess that we were not aware (until now that ex-Governor Cornwall ever had been inside of a law-office, except as a visitor, in his life. In his youthful days Mr. Cornwall may have acquired a knowledge of English law, but we submit that a life-time passed in ranching in British Columbia, varied occasionally by inactive participation in the political affairs of the Senate, or by signing official documents as a Lieut.-Governor, is not the training that educates a man for the bench.

The provincial government, not to be outdone in crass stupidity when important affairs of state are under consideration, selected another "ticket," and having sat in council "authorized" the transmission of a minute to the government of Canada, recommending the following trio of gentlemen, learned in the law, for the coveted honors:

S. T. WOOTON, for Kamloops.
G. E. CORBOULD, for New Westminster.
P. Æ. IRVING, for Nanaimo.

For the reason just stated, a comparison of the legal qualifications of the government's ticket with other members of the bar whose claims have been ignored, will not here be instituted; but we cannot refrain from pointing out that if Mr. CORNWALL is incapacitated by reason of his age and the accumulated rust of fifty years, Mr. WOOTON is equally ineligible on account of his extreme juvenility, and his total inexperience in the ways of the world. However proficient he may be as a student—for every young lawyer must continue a student until the years of legal adolescence have passed—there is an insuperable barrier to a judgeship; and to us it is incomprehensible that he should have been one of the government's nominees. We have nothing to say, at the present moment about Mr. SPINKS or Mr. CORBOULD, or Mr. IRVING. Judge HARRISON has filled his present position for a number of years with great credit to himself and we believe to the entire satisfaction of the public. He has fairly earned promotion, and if he thinks that life is better worth living at Nanaimo than it is at Cariboo, we cannot understand why his past services should not be acknowledged by making a change which he is known to desire. There are other lawyers, both at Westminster and Victoria who, Barkis like, have signified their "willingness," but it appears the government has passed them by.

It remains to be seen what the Dominion government will do about it. As between the friends of the two "tickets" Sir JOHN is between the devil and the deep sea, and whichever course he takes is certain to be engulfed.

We submit that the interest of the public ought to be considered in making these appointments. If we are to have three new county court judges we want the best men that can be induced to take the positions, and it is needless to say that the names of the best available men are not included in the above. The government has departed from its duty in nominating candidates, and has sought to usurp the functions of the members of the commons, whose special prerogative it is to dispense patronage to their friends. Surely it is unnecessary that we should have five supreme court judges and three or four county court judges, but if we must be burdened with them, in the name of common sense let us have the right men in the right place.

DIVORCE.

As Canadians are still squeamish over the matter of MR. FOSTER's marriage, or perhaps we should say the manner of MRS. FOSTER's divorce, it may not be inopportune to ask if compliance with law is any evidence of respectability. Society as a rule accords civil treatment to those who fulfill the law, and yet society is quite cognizant that there is an immense moral gap between the observance of law in act and the observance of law as a matter of principle. Without any intention of upholding or even extenuating the lax divorce laws of Illinois, we shall say it must strike anyone who is disposed to regard separation by divorce dispassionately, and who is disposed to draw a distinction between the observance of law in act and the observance of law in spirit, that the individual who honestly makes use of the unconventional system of divorce in vogue in Illinois, is superior morally to the individual who dishonestly awaits the conventional method of connubial dissolution employed at Ottawa. Incompatability of temper, without doubt, is the primary cause of nineteen-twentyeths of matrimonal infelicity. So soon as man and wife cease to be congenial it is but natural that they should drift apart. The tendency to seek affinsties is as normal as the act of breathing, and strong as are the moral and social obligations which operate to prevent the severance of the nuptial tie they are insufficient in all cases to overcome the insupportable thralldom peculiar to the matching of an ill assorted pair. So well are these things understood by the general run of people that we need not dwell on them here, and we shall only remark in this connection that to undertake to pass judgment on the motives which inspire divorce calls for a degree of moral prescience of which the larger proportion of censors are deficient. The pursuit of happiness is one of the prerogatives of mankind, and while it is undeniable that this should be so circumscribed as not to be permitted to degenerate into license we are not to presume that those who seek to remedy matrimonial indiscretion are in every instance moved thereto as an effect of venal or prurient desire. On the whole, while there is much to condemn in the lax divorce laws of some of the states, and although the vicious may avail themselves of them, if they are made use of with honest intent, the parties affected should be as eligible for social recognition as if divorced by an act of parliament. The whole secret of respectability connected with divorce is in the spirit with which divorce is sought, and not in the modus operandi by which it is obtained. The "Holy Willies" of society should take this into consideration and not rashly judge that all who avail themselves of easy divorce procedure are constrained from base and immoral motives.

CALIFORNIA WINES.

Latest advices from California are to the effect that the wine making industry is very much depressed so much so that many vineyardists are talking of ploughing up their fields, and turning their attention to the cultivation of something which will pay better than raising grapes. According to the data furnished by wine makers throughout the state, in response to solicitations as to the cause of the depression of the wine market, we are informed that ninety five per cent of Americans do not drink wine; that the wine on the market is too new, and made in a great many instances out of inferior grapes. Further there is a lack of storage facilities; and too high railway rates; adulteration of wines, and finally a dealers combination to depress the market. Some of the correspondents, unable to see a remedy for the depression write that it would be better to plow up the vines and plant the ground with something which will bring better returns for labor. Ninety five per cent. of Americans do not drink wine. This might strike the casual reader as a sign that bibulousness was on the wane in the land of the free, but really it is indicative only of the preference of Americans for the staple product of Kentucky. Whisky is emphatically the national drink of the Americans, and what is more curious still, the wine drinkers of Europe, so soon as they establish themselves in the States, take to whisky with an avidity which is surprising. The fact of the matter is, ordinary wine as a beverage is an abomination, nor would it be drank in Europe as much as it is could the general run of people afford to drink anything else. Arrived in this country where wages are better, the stimulant which has the least headache in it, though perhaps not so pleasant to the taste, is preferred. If California vineyardists would make their product pay they will have to abandon the cheap headache stuff they have been putting on the market and turn their attention exclusively to high class wines and brandies. The ordinary wine of California will kill at longer range than poor whisky, and bibulous people having found it so will have none of it.

AMERICA AND NAVAL ARMAMENTS.

The Americans have come to the conclusion that the dangers they will have to contend with in the future will be internal rather than external, and for that reason are rather deprecating the building of large naval armaments. The theory as expressed by General WALKER is that the United States, already too powerful to be attacked with any chance of success by a European nation, might in the event of being the possessor of a powerful navy be tempted to use "its giant's strength tyrannously." "What I deprecate most," says the General, "is the undertaking of such armaments as would invite the angry discussion of contested rights, or inspire a jingo administration to seek a little cheap glory by boisterous demonstrations which would be likely to result in actual conflict." In a word, in order that American spread-eagleism shall not eventuate in difficulties, Gen. WALKER advocates a defensive and not an aggressive navy. At first thought such language has the sound of coming from a doctrinnaire, men of the ilk who cried peace in 1860, but when we recollect of what inflammable material some 8,000,000 of the population of the United States is composed and of late years how all classes during presidential elections have exhibited a disposition to twist the British lion's tail, the idea of a simply defensive navy is not devoid of merit. Hostilities originating in jingo ism can not be too strongly condemned. We all remember how, when the Russians were at the gates of Herat the English jingo flew to arms, and doubtless had it not been for the cool head of GLADSTONE, an expensive and dubious campaign would have been begun in the heart of Asia. A little war is perhaps not a bad thing. It is well enough to keep the warlike instinct alive, but it is questionable whether money should be expended in keeping a nation in a condition for aggressive warfare. The surplus millions of any country might well be better spent in the arts of peace. It would be better to spend what a campaign would cost on the Panama canal. It would be better to distribute a thousand millions among the poor, than to engage in a year of war. Congress will appropriate millions for gunboats, but not a dollar for the discovery of the North Pole. There is much to commend in the conservative policy of GENERAL WALKER, and undoubtedly the JOHN L. SULLIVAN of nations to the south of us has need of men who have the courage to preach millions for defense, but not a cent for bullying.

SENATOR HOAR ABOUT RIGHT.

The San Francisco Chronicle, acting on the impulse of the wish being father to the thought, is of the opinion that Senator HOAR overrates the obstacles "to annexation with Canada." Senator HOAR has always been credited with being a man whose opinions were worth something, and if he has arrived at the conclusion that there are obstacles in the way of annexation depend upon it there is much truth in it. The people of Canada, says the Chronicle, are eminently practical, and if ever they see their way clear to entering into a profitable partnership with the United States, will not hesitate to do so. The chances are that if the people of Canada were less practical they would have confederated with the United States before this. The fact of their being practical, though, makes them hesitate. Practical politics does not warrant the risks of political assimilation on the grand scale proposed. The fact of the matter is, practical as the Americans are, they are beginning to be carried away with the idea of universal empire, a hobby which we greatly fear will prove their ruin. There are two things to be settled in the United States before that country can reasonably seek to acquire more territory, and particularly so vast an area as British North America, and these are the public school question and the color line. When these things shall have been settled the United States may exercise its octopus propensities and gather the nations in. Until then the United States has no need to acquire more territory.

EDITORIAL NOTES

In the election for a member for Marylebone, London, to take the place of Lord Charles Beresford who has resigned, the Tory candidate polled less by 452 votes than at the last election. The Gladstonian on the other hand polled 470 votes more than last time. The numbers were 2579 against 2087.

The information is occasionally furnished that Victoria is a very poor, very dead town. As a rule the news comes to us in some dirty little rag of a newspaper that a Chinaman in Victoria would not consider good enough to tie up his washing in. If business is so much better in some of our sister cities than elsewhere, it would be an excellent idea for the inhabitants to show a little of it through those ancient documents of theirs which by courtesy are called newspapers.

As this is a Home Company, organized by British Columbians for the two-fold purpose of giving cheap insurance and keeping the money in this Province, it commends itself to the support of every insurer desiring the prosperity of this country. In Ontario, the system of insurance, which is similar to that adopted by this Company, has been in highly successful operation for the past fifty years, and it has proved to be a great advantage to every insurer in it, by reducing the cost of insurance, and it is estimated that now three-fourths of the insurance effected in Ontario is carried by mutual companies.

HOW TO CONQUER.

SERMON BY REV. DR. TALMAGE, SUNDAY, JULY 21, 1889.

Great Crowds Present at Culver Park Assembly, Lake Maxinkuckee, Ind.—Text, "When Shall I Awake? I Will Seek It Yet Again."

LAKE MAXINKUCKEE, Ind., July 21.—Rev. T. De Witt Talmage preached today at Culver Park assembly, this place, great crowds being present from Indianapolis, Chicago and surrounding regions. His subject was: "How to Conquer." The text was: "When shall I awake? I will seek it yet again." Prov. xxiii, 35. The eloquent preacher said:

With an insight into human nature such as no other man ever reached, Solomon, in my text, sketches the mental operations of one who, having stepped aside from the path of rectitude, desires to return. With a wish for something better he said: "When shall I awake? When shall I come out of this horrid nightmare of iniquity?" But, seized upon by uneradicated habit, and forced down hill by his passions, he cries out: "I will seek it yet again. I will try it once more."

Our libraries are adorned with an elegant literature addressed to young men, pointing out to them all the dangers and perils of life—complete maps of the voyage, showing all the rocks, the quicksands, the shoals. But suppose a man has already made shipwreck; suppose he is already off the track; suppose he has already gone astray. How is he to get back? That is a field comparatively untouched. I propose to address myself to such. There are those in this audience who, with every passion of their agonized soul, are ready to hear such a discussion. They compare themselves with what they were ten years ago, and cry out from the bondage in which they are incarcerated. Now, if there be any here, come with an earnest purpose, yet feeling they are beyond the pale of Christian sympathy, and that the sermon can hardly be expected to address them, then, at this moment, I give them my right hand, and call them brother. Look up! There is glorious and triumphant hope for you yet. I sound the trumpet of Gospel deliverance. The church is ready to spread a banquet at your return, and the hierarchs of heaven to fall into line of bannered procession at the news of your emancipation. So far as God may help me, I propose to show what are the obstacles of your return, and then how you are to surmount those obstacles. The first difficulty in the way of your return is the force of moral gravitation. Just as there is a natural law which brings down to the earth anything you throw into the air, so there is a corresponding moral gravitation. In other words, it is easier to go down than it is to go up; it is easier to do wrong than it is to do right. Call to mind the comrades of your boyhood days—some of them good, some of them bad—which most affected you? Call to mind the anecdotes that you have heard in the last five or ten years—some of them are pure and some of them impure. Which the more easily sticks to your memory? During the years of your life you have formed certain courses of conduct—some of them good, some of them bad. To which style of habit did you the more easily yield? Ah, my friends, we have to take but a moment of self inspection to find out that there is in all our souls a force of moral gravitation! But that gravitation may be resisted. Just as you may pick up from the earth something and hold it in your hand toward heaven, just so, by the power of God's grace, a soul fallen may be lifted toward peace, toward pardon, toward heaven. Force of moral gravitation in every one of us, but power in God's grace to overcome that force of moral gravitation.

THE POWER OF EVIL HABIT.

The next thing in the way of your return is the power of evil habit. I know there are those who say it is very easy for them to give up evil habits. I do not believe them. Here is a man given to intoxication. He knows it is disgracing his family, destroying his property, ruining him, body, mind and soul. If that man, being an intelligent man, and loving his family, could easily give up that habit, would he not do so? The fact that he does not give it up proves it is hard to give it up. It is a very easy thing to sail down stream, the tide carrying you with great force; but suppose you turn the boat up stream, is it so easy then to row it? As long as we yield to the evil inclinations in our hearts, and our bad habits, we are sailing down stream; but the moment we try to turn, we put our boat in the rapids just above Niagara, and try to row up stream. Take a man given to the habit of using tobacco, as most of you do, and let him resolve to stop, and he finds it very difficult. Twenty-seven years ago I quit that habit, and I would as soon dare to put my right hand in the fire as once to indulge in it. Why? Because it was such a terrific struggle to get over it. Now, let a man be advised by his physician to give up the use of tobacco. He goes around not knowing what to do with himself. He cannot add up a line of figures. He cannot sleep nights. It seems as if the world had turned upside down. He feels his business is going to ruin. Where he was kind and obliging he is scolding and fretful. The composure that characterised him has given way to a fretful restlessness, and he has become a complete fidget. What power is it that has rolled a wave of woe over the earth and shaken a portent in the heavens? He has tried to stop smoking or chewing! After a while he says, "I am going to do as I please. The doctor doesn't understand my case. I'm going back to my old habit." And he returns. Everything assumes its usual composure. His business seems to brighten. The world becomes an attractive place to live in. His children, seeing the difference, hail the return of their father's genial disposition. What wave of color has dashed blue into the sky and greenness into the mountain foliage, and the glow of sapphire into the sunset? What enchantment has lifted a world of beauty and joy on his soul? He has gone back to tobacco!

IT IS A TASKMASTER.

Oh, the fact is, as we all know in our own experience, that habit is a taskmaster; as long as we obey it, it does not chastise us; but let us resist, and we find we are to be lashed with scorpion whips and bound with ship cable, and thrown into the track of bone breaking Juggernauts! During the war of 1812, there was a ship set on fire just above Niagara Falls, and then, cut loose from its moorings, it came on down through the night and tossed over the falls. It was said to have been a scene brilliant beyond all description. Well, there are thousands of men on fire of evil habit, coming down through the rapids and through the awful night of temptation toward the eternal plunge. Oh! how hard it is to arrest them. God only can arrest them.

Suppose a man after five, or ten, or twenty years of evil doing, resolves to do right! Why, all the forces of darkness are allied against him. He cannot sleep nights. He gets down on his knees in the midnight and cries, "God help me!" He bites his lips. He grinds his teeth. He clenches his fist in his determination to keep his purpose. He dare not look at the bottles in the window of a wine store. It was one long, bitter, exhaustive, hand-to-hand fight, with inflamed, tantalizing and merciless habit. When he thinks he is entirely free, the old inclinations pounce upon him like a pack of hounds with their muzzles tearing away at the flanks of one poor reindeer. In Paris there is a sculptured representation of Bacchus, the god of revelry. He is riding on a panther at full leap. Oh, how suggestive! Let every one who is speeding on bad ways understand he is not riding a docile and well broken steed, but he is riding a monster, wild and bloodthirsty, going at a death leap.

"WHEN SHALL I AWAKE?"

How many there are who resolve on a better life and say: "When shall I awake?" But, seized on by their old habits, cry: "I will try it once more; I will seek it yet again!" Years ago there were some Princeton students who were skating, and the ice was very thin, and some one warned the company back from the air hole, and finally warned them entirely to leave the place. But one young man, with bravado, after all the rest had stopped, cried out: "One round more!" He swept around and went down, and was brought out a corpse. My friends, there are thousands and tens of thousands of men losing their souls in that way. It is the one round more.

I have also to say that if a man wants to return from evil practices society repulses him. Desiring to reform he says, "Now, I will shake off my old associates, and I will find Christian companionship." And he appears at the church door some Sabbath day, and the usher greets him with a look, as much as to say, "Why, you here! You are the last man I ever expected to see at church! Come, take this seat right down by the door!" Instead of saying, "Good morning; I am glad you are here. Come; I will give you a first rate seat, right up by the pulpit." Well, the prodigal, not yet discouraged, enters the prayer meeting, and some Christian man with more zeal than common sense, says, "Glad to see you. The dying thief was saved, and I suppose there is mercy for you!" The young man, disgusted, chilled, throws himself back on his dignity, resolved he never will enter the house of God again. Perhaps not quite fully discouraged about reformation, he sides up by some highly respectable man he used to know going down the street, and immediately the respectable man has an errand down some other street! Well, the prodigal, wishing to return, takes some member of a Christian association by the hand, or tries to. The Christian young man looks at him, looks at the faded apparel and the marks of dissipation, and instead of giving him a warm grip of the hand, offers him the tip end of the long fingers of the left hand, which is equal to striking a man in the face.

Oh, how few Christian people understand how much force and gospel there is in a good, honest handshaking! Sometimes, when you have felt the need of encouragement and some Christian man has taken you heartily by the hand, have you not felt that thrilling through every fiber of your body, mind and soul, an encouragement that was just what you needed? You do not know anything at all about this unless you know when a man tries to return from evil courses of conduct, he runs against repulsions innumerable. We say of some man, he lives a block or two from the church or half a mile from the church. There are people in our crowded cities who live a thousand miles from the church. Vast deserts of indifference between them and the house of God. The fact is, we must keep our respectability, though thousands and tens of thousands perish. Christ sat with publicans and sinners. But if there comes to the house of God a man with marks of dissipation upon him, people throw up their hands in horror, as much as to say, "Isn't it shocking?" How these dainty, fastidious Christians in all our churches are going to get into heaven I don't know, unless they have an especial train of cars, cushioned and upholstered, each one a car to himself! They cannot go without the great herd of publicans and sinners. Oh, ye, who curl your lip of scorn at the fallen, I tell you plainly, if you had been surrounded by the same influences, instead of sitting today amid the cultured and the refined and the Christian, you would have been a crouching wretch in stable or ditch, covered with filth and abomination! It is not because you are naturally any better, but because the mercy of God has protected you. Who are you, that brought up in Christian circles, and watched by Christian parentage, you should be so hard on the fallen!

I think men also are often hindered from return by the fact that churches are too anxious about their membership and too anxious about their denomination, and they rush out when they see a man about to give up his sin and return to God, and ask him how he is going to be baptized, whether by sprinkling or by immersion, and what kind of a church he is going to join. Oh, my friends! it is a poor time to talk about Presbyterian catechisms, and Episcopal liturgies, and Methodist love feasts, and baptisteries to a man that is coming out of the darkness of sin into the glorious light of the Gospel. Why, it reminds me of a man drowning in the sea and a lifeboat puts out for him, and the man in the boat says to the man out of the boat: "Now, if I get you ashore, are you going to live in my street?" First get him ashore, and then talk about the non-essentials of religion. Who cares what church he joins, if he only joins Christ and starts for heaven? Oh, you ought to have, my brother, an illumined face, and a hearty grip for every one that tries to turn from his evil way! Take hold of the same book with him, though his dissipations shake the book, remembering that he that converteth a sinner from the error of his ways shall save a soul from death, and hide a multitude of sins.

HOW THE SHACKLES MAY BE LOOSED.

Now, I have shown you these obstacles because I want you to understand I know all the difficulties in the way; but I am now to tell you how Hannibal may scale the Alps, and how the shackles may be unriveted, and how the paths of virtue forsaken may be regained. First of all, my brother, throw yourself on God. Go to him frankly and earnestly, and tell him these habits you have, and ask him if there is any help in all the resources of omnipotent love, to give it to you. Do not go with a long rigmarole people call prayer, made up of "ohs" and "ahs" and "forever and forever amens!" Go to God and cry for help! help! help! And if you cannot cry for help just look and live. I remember in the war I was at Antietam, and I went into the hospitals after the battle, and I said to a man, "Where are you hurt?" He made no answer, but held up his arms swollen and splintered. I saw where he was hurt. The simple fact is, when a man has a wounded soul, all he has to do is to hold it up before a sympathetic Lord and get it healed. It does not take any long prayer. Just hold up the wound. Oh, it is no small thing when a man is nervous and weak and exhausted, coming from his evil ways, to feel that God puts two omnipotent arms around about him and says: "Young man, I will stand by you! The mountains may depart and the hills be removed, but I will never fail you." And then, as the soul thinks the news is too good to be true, and cannot believe it, and looks up in God's face, God lifts his right hand and takes an oath, an affidavit, saying: "As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth."

THANK GOD FOR THE GOSPEL.

Blessed be God for such a Gospel as this. "Cut the slices thin," said the wife to the husband, "or there will not be enough to go all around for the children; cut the slices thin." Blessed be God there is a full loaf for every one that wants it; bread enough and to spare. No thin slices at the Lord's table. I remember when the Master Street hospital, in Philadelphia, was opened during the war, a telegram came saying, "There will be three hundred wounded men to-night, be ready to take care of them;" and from my church there went in some twenty or thirty men and women to look after these poor wounded fellows. As they came, some from one part of the land, some from another, no one asked whether this man was from Oregon, or from Massachusetts, or from Minnesota, or from New York. There was a wounded soldier, and the only question was how to take off the rags most gently, and put on the bandage, and administer the cordial. And when a soul comes to God, he does not ask where you came from or what your ancestry was. Healing for all your wounds. Pardon for all your guilt. Comfort for all your troubles.

Then, also, I counsel you, if you want to get back, to quit all your bad associations. One unholy intimacy will fill your soul with moral distemper. In all the ages of the church there has not been an instance where a man kept one evil associate and was reformed. Among the fourteen hundred million of the race not one instance. Go home today, open your desk, take out letter paper, stamp and envelope, and then write a letter something like this:

"My old companions: I start this day for heaven. Until I am persuaded you will join me in this, farewell."

YOU MUST RENOUNCE ONE OR THE OTHER.

Then sign your name and send the letter with the first post. Give up your bad companions or give up heaven. It is not ten bad companions that destroy a man, nor five bad companions, nor three bad companions, but one. What chance is there for that young man I saw along the street, four or five young men with him, halting in front of a grog shop, urging him to go in, he resisting, violently resisting, until after a while they forced him to go in! It was a summer night and the door was left open, and I saw the process. They held him fast, and they put the cup to his lips, and they forced down the strong drink. What chance is there for such a young man!

I counsel you also seek Christian advice. Every Christian man is bound to help you. First of all, seek God; then seek Christian counsel. Gather up all the energies of body, mind and soul, and, appealing to God for success, declare this day everlasting war against all drinking habits, all gambling practices, all houses of sin. Half-and-half work will amount to nothing; it must be a Waterloo. Shrink back now and you are lost. Push on and you are saved. A Spartan general fell at the very moment of victory, but he dipped his finger in his own blood and wrote on a rock near which he was dying, "Sparta has conquered." Though your struggle to get rid of sin may seem to be almost a death struggle, you can dip your finger in your own blood and write on the Rock of Ages, "Victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Oh, what glorious news it would be for some of these young men to send home to their parents. They go to the postoffice every day or two to see whether there are any letters from you. How anxious they are to hear.

SEND THE GOOD NEWS HOME.

Some one said to a Grecian general, "What was the proudest moment in your life?" He thought a moment, and said: "The proudest moment in my life was when I sent word home to my parents that I had gained the victory." And the proudest and most brilliant moment in your life will be the moment when you can send word to your parents that you have conquered your evil habits by the grace of God and become eternal victor. Oh, despise not parental anxiety! The time will come when you will have neither father nor mother, and you will go around the place where they used to watch you and find them gone from the house and gone from the field, and gone from the neighborhood. Cry as loud for forgiveness as you may over the mound in the churchyard, they will not answer. Dead! Dead! And then you will take out the white lock of hair that was cut from your mother's brow just before they buried her, and you will take the cane with which your father used to walk, and you will think and think and wish that you had done just as they wanted you to, and would give the world if you had never thrust a pang through their dear old hearts. God pity the poor young man who has brought disgrace on his father's name! God pity the young man who has broken his mother's heart! Better if he had never been born—better if, in the first hour of his life, instead of being laid against the warm bosom of maternal tenderness, he had been coffined and sepulchered. There is no balm powerful enough to heal the heart of one who has brought parents to a sorrowful grave, and who wanders about through the dismal cemetery, rending the hair and wringing the hands and crying, "Mother! Mother!" Oh, that today, by all the memories of the past and by all the hopes of the future, you would yield your heart to God! May your father's God and your mother's God be your God forever!

Receivers.

Victoria, July 13th, 1889 jy13

The Canadian Pacific Land and Mortgage Company, Limited, (Foreign).

Registered the 10th day of July, 1889.

CERTIFICATE OF REGISTRATION.

THIS IS TO CERTIFY THAT I HAVE THIS day registered "The Canadian Pacific Land and Mortgage Company, Limited, (Foreign)" under the "Companies' Act," Part IV, Registration of Foreign Companies.

The objects for which the Company is established are:

1. To purchase, take under any concession, lease, or in exchange, hire or otherwise acquire, settle, improve, farm and cultivate lands of any tenure, franchises and hereditaments situate in the Dominion of Canada, the United States of North America, or elsewhere, including any mines, minerals, ships, steamboats, barges, and other vessels, engines, railway wagons, tanks, reservoirs, manufacturing plant, apparatus and stock in trade, and any other real and personal property of whatever description, whether the same be unencumbered or subject to any mortgage, charge, lien, easements, privileges, licenses, concessions or otherwise, and to develop the resources of any such properties by building any kind of structure thereupon, planting, reclaiming, clearing, mining, quarrying, excavating, damming, draining, farming, and otherwise dealing with and working the same, and to stock lands and farms, and to breed, grow and deal in all kinds of stock, cattle, horses, sheep and produce, and to erect and maintain therefor suitable buildings and structures, including slaughtering, refrigerating, and converting establishments.

2. To invest money by way of advance, or loan at interest to any person or persons, or corporation, upon the security of any property and securities whatever, real or personal, including produce, crops and manufactures, government and all other stocks, bonds, mortgages, or securities, whether British, colonial, or foreign, and generally to buy, manufacture, deal in and sell all kinds of goods, chattels, merchandise, produce and effects.

3. To aid, encourage and promote immigration, emigration and colonization, and for such purposes to lend and grant any sums of money, and to act as agents therefor.

4. To work, win, convert, sell, use or otherwise deal with all or any mineral property of the Company, to construct or acquire, take concessions of, purchase or lease, hire, maintain, improve, work and use, or aid in, or subscribe towards the construction, maintenance, improvement and working of roads, ways, streets, tramways, wire tramways, electric or other power, telegraph and telephone lines and works, or other means of communication or appliances of a similar nature, railways, railway stock, locomotives, engines, docks, piers, harbors, quays, wharves, landing stages, jetties, slips, stores, bridges, canals, channels, wells, tanks, lights and beacons, viaducts, aqueducts, water works, flumes, culverts, ditches, warehouses, factories, shops, churches, chapels, schools, libraries, institutes, inns, foundries, brick kilns, reduction works, gas and water works, electric lighting or power works, hotels, mills, undertakings, works and other buildings and structures, of every description, and for the above purposes to enter into and carry into effect any contracts, and apply for, accept, and carry into effect such concessions, licenses or authorities as may be deemed necessary or advisable.

5. To acquire running powers, rights of easements over and to make arrangements with any companies or persons for the joint working of any railway, tramway, or line, of electric wire, or other similar means of communication.

6. To build, purchase, charter, hire or otherwise acquire, maintain, repair and use steam and other ships and vessels, and to carry on the business of ship owners, lightermen, wharfingers, dock owners, warehousemen, ship chandlers, commission and shipping agents, and to levy cranage, anchorage, lighterage and other dues and tolls, either in connection with the other businesses of the Company, or as an independent source of profit.

7. To transact all manner of agency and commission business, and in particular to act as agents for any persons or corporation in the purchase, sale, or management in any way of lands, hereditaments and other property in the Dominion of Canada, the United States of North America, or elsewhere, where the Company may for the time then being be carrying on business, and to carry on the business of general, commercial, mercantile, shipping or forwarding agents, or agents for any railway, steamship, or other company.

8. To accept and hold any property whatsoever upon any trust whatever, and to make advances against the same, and to issue debentures there against, and to act as trustees, attorneys or agents of or for any persons, living or dead, or of any company, corporation, public body or supreme government, and also as real or personal representatives of any deceased persons.

9. To transact all business connected with the investment and loan of money at interest, to receive money on deposit, and generally to transact and carry on every description of banking, discount, exchange and financial business.

10. To make, draw, accept, indorse, discount and execute promissory notes, bills of exchange, and other negotiable instruments.

11. To build, lay out, settle, colonize and develop towns and villages on the lands acquired or controlled by the Company from time to time.

12. To purchase or otherwise acquire the exclusive or limited right to use information as regards any inventions, whether patented or not, which may seem capable of being used for any purposes of the Company, or the acquisition of which may seem calculated, directly or indirectly, to benefit the Company, and to acquire any grants, charters, concessions, patents, patent rights, monopolies, brevets d'inventions, copyrights or licenses, and to use, exercise, develop, grant licenses in respect of, or otherwise turn to account the property, rights and information acquired.

13. To take or otherwise acquire, and hold or sell shares, stock, debentures, or any other interest in any other company, whether British or foreign, in which the liability of the members is limited, having objects altogether or in part similar to those of this Company, or carrying on any business capable of being conducted so as directly or indirectly to benefit this Company.

14. To purchase or otherwise acquire or undertake all or any part of the business, property and liabilities of any company, corporation, society, partnership or persons carrying on, or about to carry on, any business which this Company is authorized to carry on, or which is in any respect similar to the business for the time being of this Company, or which is capable of being conducted so as directly or indirectly to benefit this Company, and to make and carry into effect arrangements with respect to the sharing of profits, union of interests or amalgamation, either in whole or in part, of this Company with any such company, corporation, society, partnership or persons.

15. To dispose of by sale, lease, underlease, exchange, surrender, mortgage or otherwise absolutely, conditionally, or for any limited interest, all or any part of the undertaking, property, rights or privileges of the Company as a going concern or otherwise, to any public body, company, society or association, or to any person or persons, and in particular to any other company having objects altogether or in part similar to those of this Company, and to accept as the consideration, or part of the consideration for such disposal money, stock shares, debentures or other securities, either for distribution in specie among the members or otherwise.

16. To subscribe for, take, acquire, hold and sell the stock, shares, scrip, certificates, bonds, obligations, debentures and securities of any other company, or of any supreme, municipal, public or local board or authority.

17. To borrow and raise money for the purposes of the Company in such manner and upon such terms as the Company shall think fit, and to secure the repayment thereof by bonds or debentures, or by redeemable or unredeemable debenture stock (such bonds, debentures and debenture stock being made payable to bearer or otherwise) or by any other instruments, or by bills of exchange, or promissory notes, or in such other manner as may be determined, and for any such purposes to charge all or any part of the property of the Company (both present and future), including the uncalled capital.

18. To obtain any provisional order or Act of Parliament, or legislative provision, decree or order of any colony, foreign government, body or authority, to incorporate the members as a body politic or corporate, in accordance with the laws and constitution of any country or state in which the Company shall be carrying on, or be desirous of carrying on, any of its operations, and to take all steps and do all things necessary to give the Company, or any company subsidiary thereto, a legal domicile in any such country or state, and such legislative powers as will facilitate the carrying into effect of the objects of the Company therein.

19. To give any guarantee of whatever description in relation to the stock, shares, debentures or other securities or obligations of any company or supreme, public, municipal or local body or authority, and generally to guarantee the performance of any covenant or obligation.

20. To transact all business connected with the investment and loan of money at interest.

21. To allot the shares of the Company credited as fully or partly paid up as the whole or part of the purchase price for any property purchased by the Company, or for any valuable consideration.

22. To appropriate and apply such parts of the capital of the Company as may be expedient to the payment of such brokerage, discounts and other expenses as may be deemed incidental to the formation and promotion of the Company, and the placing of its shares and debentures, or any part thereof.

23. To aid any government or state, or any municipal, local or other body politic or corporate, or company or association, or individuals with capital, credit, means or resources, for the prosecution of any works, undertakings, projects or enterprises.

24. To do all or any of the above things in any part of the world, and either alone or in partnership or conjunction with any person or other association, and either as principals or agents, and to contract for the carrying on of any operation connected with the Company's business by any person or other association.

25. To carry out the objects comprised in each paragraph of this clause in as full and ample a manner, and construed in as wide a sense as they would be construed if each paragraph of this clause defined the objects of a separate, distinct and independent company, and so that such objects shall not, except where otherwise expressed in such paragraph, be restricted by reference to the objects indicated in any other paragraph.

26. To do all such other things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects, or any of them, or which the Company shall consider incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects, or any of them, and so that the word "company" in this memorandum shall be deemed to include any partnership or other body of persons, whether corporate or incorporate, and wherever domiciled.

The amount of capital stock of the said Company is £250,000, divided into 25,000 shares of £10 each.

The place of business of the said Company is located at the City of Victoria, in the Province of British Columbia.

In testimony whereof I have hereto set my hand and affixed my seal of office this 10th day of July, 1889, at the City of Victoria, in the Province of British Columbia.

—Hamilton Times: Rev. A. C. Crews, late of this city, and now of Winnipeg, took the first public opportunity he had to tell his congregation that during the summer months the church service would not extend over one hour in length. Mr. Crews has a level head. Thirdly and fourthly are entirely out of place this warm weather.

THE COLUMBIAN.

Our Non-Partizan Contemporary Briefly Referred to.

We do not consider ourselves under any obligations to rejoin to the utterances of organs which vigorously disclaim being party organs, but whose partisanship at the same time is circumscribed only by the length and breadth of their prejudices. Nor do we expect that our strictures on the government will escape criticism. Did we bring the burning logic of "Junius" to bear on the Columbian's political demigods we should expect that paper to respond adversely. So, if we do not on all occasions reply to the prattle of our contemporary, it need not flatter itself that our silence is that of defeat. We say without qualification, however, that the legislation of the government last winter was peculiarly imbecile, and the Columbian dare not undertake a specific defense of it. But why should we fool away our time with the Columbian, at this juncture, when it has a local contemporary which is a hard hitter. The Columbian may well turn its attention to its antagonist under its nose. If, however, it is expected of us to do all the battling there is no denying the prolificness of the subject. Splendid material to fall back on is the government, when after having ranged over "exchanges" for a subject nothing can be found which is worth stealing or transposing into original matter. On the whole let us thank heaven that we have a government that is hidebound and that the Columbian has undertaken the non-partisan task of rowelling it, and otherwise getting it in condition for the activity it will have to display in dodging the charges which will be preferred against it.

The Maude Ashore.

Word was received in the city this morning that the C. P. N. Co.'s steamer Maude, loaded with iron from Vancouver for Port Townsend, was ashore on San Juan Island. Immediately on receipt of the news Commodore Irving left for the scene of the affair in Mr. Rithet's steam launch, the Hollyback.

Death.

Little Beatrice Ward, aged two years, expired yesterday at the home of her parents, 109 Johnson street, from inflammation of the bowels. The little one was buried at 11 o'clock this morning.

Broke the Record.

The Tacoma mill on Wednesday last cut 465,928 feet of lumber, and broke the record. Some time ago 416,000 feet was the largest the mill had cut, but Captain Libby concluded on Wednesday to try and break it, and he did. The regular day's work is 250,000 feet.

Vancouver Paper Please Copy.

The Minneapolis Tribune says: "Victoria, British Columbia, is the slowest town in North America. Business men there get down to their offices at 1 p. m., and leaves at 4. Victoria should substitute "A.D." for the "B.C." after its name, and try to be something less than 1900 years behind the times."

Gold in the Nor'west.

Monday evening, says the Calgary Tribune, Mr. Carey arrived from Edmonton with $1400 worth of gold, which had been taken out of the Saskatchewan. This makes a total of $8000 taken out this year. Mr. Carey says the wheat crop is looking very well, while oats and potatoes will probably be a half crop.

The Harvest.

People who have scarcely realized that this was an unusually early season will be impressed with the fact when it is learned that the farmers of Cedar Hill have finished harvesting and will commence threshing next week. Pears, apples and other autumn fruits are now also ripe in many orchards. All crops are about up to the average.

Progress at Duncan's.

Mr. D. McPhadden has returned from Duncan's, where he has just been engaged in putting up three new buildings. Two new stores were constructed, one for Messrs. McDonald & Fry, and one for Mr. J. P. Jaynes, and a large barn for Col. Matthews. Duncan's has been laid out into a townsite, and Mr. McPhadden says things are just booming along there.

Bark Lost.

A dispatch received from Astoria Or., states a bark is on her beam ends off the weather beach, abreast of Easterbrook's. The crew, in a small boat, are displaying signals. They are supposed to want a tug. The vessel is supposed to be the bark Jeannette Ferguson, from Victoria July 20. The tug Escort No. 2 starts right away. No further particulars can be obtained at present.

The Islander.

The steamship Islander came out of the dry dock this morning and was brought around by Commodore Irving. She at once proceeded through the drawbridge to Spratt's wharf, to be out of the way till ready to run again, which will be on Tuesday morning next. The old propeller, replaced by a new one, shows signs of some hard knocks, the four blades being each broken to considerable extent. She has done remarkably well considering this, and should do better in future.

The Last Word.

Pens and paper are in big demand on board the China steamers during the time the trip is being made between Vancouver and this city. Officers and men rushed with the work of loading and unloading at the dock to seize the opportunity of writing a line to the folks at home while passengers are anxious to have the last word with the friends they have just left behind and to tell them that they are fairly off for the land of the rising sun. Capt. Urquhart brought about a hundred of these missives ashore from the Abyssinia yesterday for mailing.

A Possible Candidate.

The name of Mr. H. V. Edmonds is generally spoken of as a fit successor to the Westminster civic chair, left vacant by the resignation of Mr. John Hendry. Mr. Edmonds has been chief magistrate of the city before, and should he be elected to that office again he would run the civic government with both tact and dignity. Mr. Edmonds has not been approached on the subject yet, and it is not known whether or not he would accept the office. Mr. Edmonds is a gentleman far above the average in ability and one of the wealthiest men on the mainland.

Marine.

The China steamship Abyssinia passed outward last night, at 8:30 o'clock. She carries 1000 tons of freight, 25 saloon passengers and a number in the steerage.

The American fishery commissioners steamer Albatross, anchored in the outer harbor at 9 o'clock last night.

The ship Gitana finished loading lumber at Hastings yesterday, and will sail on Monday for Valparaiso.

The steamer Michigan arrived from Portland by way of Puget Sound on Friday afternoon, and left this morning for New Westminster, Vancouver and Nanaimo.

The Salmon Run.

Reports from all the canneries say that fish are just what they ought to be—as plentiful as the water itself, so to speak On one of the cannery wharves yesterday afternoon 16,000 salmon lay in one shining heap, and those who saw the pile say it was a wonderful sight to behold. Another wharf held around 10,000 fish, and many others held as many or more. The packing capacity of the canneries was taxed to its utmost last night, and the past 24 hours has added many thousand cases to the season's pack. The outlook for the season is now bright, and the indications are that the Fraser river pack this year will be the largest on record.—Columbian.

The Medium Business.

Why anyone should have a desire to enquire into the future of their lives it is hard to understand. The pleasures of success would be robbed of all their attractions were people warned of and waiting for its coming; life would be a dreary funeral procession, were we permitted to lift the veil that limits our vision gaze for a moment on the misfortunes the future has in store for us. But being natural born fools, having neither confidence in our own ability to meet any exigency, that may arise, nor in that of an all wise dower to guide us through life in such manner as may be best suited to us, we seek to anticipate life and death and those destinies which have been so wisely hidden from us. As a result of this enquiry into the future a young lady in this city is said to be prostrated since a recent interview with a medium. Of a weak and nervous temperament, she was unable to stand the shock which some information gave her, and is now threatened with fever. But those who commit follies must pay the price of them.

Port Moody Placer Diggings.

There is yet a chance, and a bright one too, for Port Moody to recover all its pristine glory, and to hold its head high aloft among the cities of the province. Gold has been struck at the head of the Inlet, within the limits of Port Moody, in paying quantity, the discoverer being nothing more or less than a common domestic duck. The report of the find is as follows: Mr. John Murray has a large flock of ducks which feed in the water at the extreme head of the Inlet, and at the mouth of a stream that empties into the salt water at this point. One of the ducks was killed on Tuesday for table use, and on opening the crop Mrs. Murray was astonished to find a handsome gold nugget, which, when weighed, indicated a value of $1 25. Much speculation was the result of the find, and many were the opinions and theories expressed by old miners on the subject. The result of the discovery is that several claims on the creek and at the head of the Inlet have already been staked, and immediately steps will be taken to test their richness. As the cackling of geese saved ancient Rome, so may the crop of this duck, in a slightly different manner, save Port Moody from the fate that has so long threatened it.—Columbian.

THE NAAS RIVER.

The Salmon Run and Canneries—Condition of the Industry.

I note that the news from the Naas seems to be somewhat scarce with you and your contemporaries, and that the news you do get is very fragmentary. It occurred to me that a letter might be acceptable, as among your numerous readers there are some who take an interest in the salmon run and the doings of the canneries here.

There are two new canneries here this season, one owned by the Cascade Packing Co. and the other by the British Columbia Canning Co. These, with McLellan's cannery at Naas Harbor, make the complement for this river. McLellan's alone fished spring salmon, as the other two were in course of construction during the spring salmon run and were not ready until later. The B. C. Canning Co. started in on July 1st, fishing for sockeyes and was followed closely by both the others, McLellan exchanging spring nets for sockeye nets on or about the 3rd; the Cascade put out a few boats and salted the catch until the 11th, when they commenced canning.

The run is not good as yet, but promises fairly well. The spawn seems to be small and undeveloped, and the fish do not come into the river at all hardly. The fishing is all done at the mouth of the river, and the average catch is from 12 to 50 fish to each boat.

The old hands here predict that three canneries are too many for this river and that the catch for each will be proportionately small, whereas two canneries could do well. There are at least 125 boats fishing now against 75, the highest number for any previous year. The result will show whether they are right or wrong.

McLellan got in the neighborhood of 2,300 cases of spring salmon and from all the reports we can gather he is No. 1 in that respect among the northern canneries. He is prepared for 16,000 cases and is energetically trying to fill them. He has now probably 2,500 cases of sockeyes canned.

The Cascade, Mr. Twombly, manager, is prepared for 10,000 cases. He is working under difficulties at present, but will be in good working trim in another week. Operations were not commenced by this company until late and great credit is due them for the energy and perseverance displayed by them in getting ready at all. Their steamer, the Spitfire, arrived on the 7th and is daily engaged in towing fish from their various camps.

The B. C. Co's., place is on the north side of the river, at what is known as "Croasdaile's Mill" site. Mr. M. H. Leary is the manager. They are prepared for 10,000 cases and have 2,000 already packed.

I had almost forgotten to mention the Naas River Industrial Co, the object of which is to salt salmon and oolachans and trade with the Indians. Their base of operations is the Methodist mission at Greenville.

The weather up to July 3rd has been very wet nine tenths of the time, but since then it has been clear and hot with very foggy mornings, such as is generally called good sockeye weather. I doubt if the fogs are of any particular advantage to anybody, least of all to the fishermen, who can't see one another or the shore and consequently succeed, occasionally, in getting into elegant confusion, not to be straightened out until the fog lifts. This of course makes bad blood, poor fishing and much profanity, fishermen being as a rule past-masters in the science of profanity, being for the most part graduates from the merchant marine of all nations. They seem to take pride in it and devote a good deal of time and energy to the invention of new and terse expressions with which to express themselves forcibly and graphically when the occasion seems to demand it.

You have my permission to cut this letter down to suit yourself and the room you may have to spare in your valuable columns. I give you permission because I know that you will do so anyhow and I might as well be pleasant about it. At any rate it is a case of "kultus kopa nika."

W. B. T.

Naas River, July 20.

FROM THE NORTH.

Arrival of the C. P. N. Company's Steamer Sardonyx.

The steamer Sardonyx, Capt. Meyer, arrived from the north last night with thirty-three first-class passengers and over thirty in the steerage. The down cargo consisted of 3,600 cases of salmon, half from the British American Packing Co, and the balance from the Windsor. There were also 100 barrels and 75 cases of Skidegate oil, and 75 barrels of skil from the Queen Charlotte Islands fisheries.

The reports from the salmon fisheries are to the effect that the runs on the Naas and Skeena are not as large as expected. Rivers Inlet keeps up its unfailing record and the two canneries there have all they can handle.

At Alert Bay the run is also good. The pack at the different canneries ten days ago was as follows: Rivers Inlet Canning Co., Rivers Inlet, 7000 cases; Wannuck Packing Co., Rivers Inlet, 5000. July 19—McLennan's Cannery, Naas river, 5200 cases; Findlay, Durham & Brodie, Naas river, 2500; Cascade Packing Co., Naas river, 1500. July 21—Inverness Cannery, Skeena river, 7000 cases; British American Co., Skeena river, 8500, Cunningham's, Skeena, 8000; Windsor Canning Co, Skeena, 7000; Balmoral Cannery, Skeena, 6000; North Pacific Packing Co., 7000. July 25—Alert Bay Packing Co., 4000 cases.

PASSENGERS.

The following were passengers down by the Sardonyx: D. Clements, John Anderson, G. W. Dillon, Jos. A. Teas, W. Byrne, R. Gibbs, E. Dunn, W. H. Whitley, R. Blidner, B. Lundy, F. Hall, Jas. Gaudin, H. Williscroft, Dan Kiehl, G. Gasnell, C. LaBlanc, A. Miller, R. Oregon, J. W. Haskell, E. Davis, S. Harris, A. Keefe, F. Keefe, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Guillod, P. Johnson, Walter Eerle, Harry Ross, F. P. Lundy, and Chas. Fennings.

The Sardonyx sails for the north on Monday.

PERSONAL.

Items Telling of Movements of Well Known Persons.

J. W. Hirst, representing Barber & Ellis, paper manufacturers of Toronto, is in the city.

Gideon Robertson was among the arrivals from Vancouver last evening.

A. E. Beck, of Vancouver, is at the Driard.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Hills is indisposed at present, and has decided not to visit Alberni just yet.

Hon. Justice Crease is in Nanaimo in connection with the revision of the Dominion voter's list for that district.

Miss Brown, teacher in the Nanaimo schools was a passenger from Tacoma last evening.

J. Hayden and E. J. McPheely of Vancouver arrived down last night.

Rev. Dr. Levy preached last night in the Synagogue to an appreciative audience. He will leave to-morrow for his home in Oakland, Cal.

T. G. Mathers and Hanly Henderson, Winnipeg, are at the Driard.

POLICE COURT.

[Before Hon. A. N. Richards, Q. C.]

A couple of charges against well known citizens allowing thistles to grow on their property were dismissed on the payment of $2 or costs.

John Galbraith, charged with being drunk, was sent to gaol for one month with hard labor, he having no property to pay a fine of $5 imposed.

Salmon.

A telegram received to-day by Messrs. Todd & Son from their North Arm cannery stated that they had 8000 fish on the wharf this morning. Information received by other parties from other parts of the river is equally encouraging. The only hope is that the run will not play out before the canneries can "fill."

Boat Stolen.

A large boat belonging to W. Heathorn, was stolen on Thursday night from the wharf near Rock Bay Tannery. Mr. Heathorn offers a reward for the return of the boat and the apprehension of the thieves.

An Excellent Move.

Mayor Grant has called a meeting to be held at the city hall next Monday afternoon, to devise means towards the establishment of an university in the city of Victoria. The move is of utmost importance and the meeting should be well attended.

Senators Arrive.

The U. S. fishery steamer Albatross arrived from the north last night with Senator Dawes and the Senate committee on Indian affairs on board. The party have been investigating into the condition of the Indians of Alaska. This morning they came ashore in the vessel's steam launch and took a look around the city.

Well Done.

About ten o'clock this morning the old moss on the roof of an old building on Store street, opposite the E. and N. depot, occupied as a junk store, was discovered to be on fire. Messrs. David and Samuel Phillips, who were in the vicinity at the time, hastily climbed to the roof and extinguished the embryo blaze with a few buckets of water.

Open Air Concert.

The following airs will be performed in the park to-morrow afternoon by the Sacred Concert Band:

Medly March	Beyer
Old Recollections	A. C. West
Selection from "Faust"	Gounod
Concert Mazurka	Casey
German Medley	Pferdner
Woman's Love	Bennett
Ernani	Verdi
On the Go	Bohnson

She Gets Four Years.

Miss Minnie Allen, of terra cotta hair and cat-like tread, who figured in police court circles here lately, has been sentenced by Judge Allyn of Tacoma to four years imprisonment in the penitentiary at Walla Walla for larceny. "Baby" Allen has been placed in a charitable institution for safe keeping. Mrs. Allen began crying after sentence was passed and was rudely demonstrative.

A Good Proposition.

It is understood that efforts are being made to have the matriculation papers of Toronto University in medicine and arts sent to this province. In that case the examination would be conducted under the superintendence of some one appointed for the purpose after which the papers would be forward to the examiners for reading and valuation. Candidates in this way would not have to journey to Toronto to take an examination which they might not be successful in passing.

That Marriage.

Up to the present date, although several couples have signified their intention of competing for the handsomest of furniture offered by the committee of the coming Foresters' fete, by being married in the grounds, there is only one couple who have made direct application to the secretary to be married according to arrangements, and they hail from Vancouver. Now, then, Victoria youths and maidens, don't let the terminal city take away our home manufactured furniture to their city!

Tramway Notes.

The Chemainus Mill Co. has the contract for supplying 450 cedar poles for the Electric Tramway Co. They will be cut near Chemainus and brought to the outer wharf and from there will be teamed into the city by Mr. Jas. Baker, who also has the contract to paint them and place them in position. The poles are now being cut and the work of erecting them in the city will begin August 15th. One month's time will suffice to put them all up, but the contractor has till October 15th to complete the job.

Halls of Justice.

His Lordship Chief Justice Begbie does not appear to be favorably inclined towards the acoustic properties of the law courts or the elevated sphere to which he was foisted by the government. In the Supreme Court, Friday afternoon, he informed a prisoner that he must mount seventy steps before he could reach the halls of justice and when he got there it was almost impossible for him to hear anything that might be said. The government, after this, should feel that the curious pile of buildings on Langley street is unfit for habitation for the Lord High Chancellor, and its immediate demolition should be the result of the opinion expressed by one who appears to be determined to pass the remainder of his life beneath its stately walls.

Drowning Accident.

A passenger, who arrived on the steamer Rustler at Nanaimo brought down the sad news that a man named Frank Splude, employed at A. C. Frazer's logging camp, on Cortez Island, had been drowned. He had been engaged during the day fixing a boom, the rest of the men being at work in the woods. Splude was not missed until the men came in to supper and then a vigorous search was at once instituted with the result of finding the body under the boom of logs When Splude was found every effort was made to restore animation, but without success, life was extinct. The conclusion arrived at was that the man, while working on the boom, slipped down between the logs and was unable to rise owing to their closing over him. The body was buried near the camp, while endeavors will be made to ascertain the wishes of the friends of the deceased as to the ultimate disposal of the remains.—Courier.

The Vancouver Apologist.

The Vancouver apologist of the government—the World—finds considerable to say anent the sudden activity of the government in the matter of opening up a highway to Kootenay, and boldly says that their will be no active steps taken in that direction anterior to a legislative appropriation. The World is off its base in this particular. The government once dislodged from the mossy recesses which have become its almost normal abode, possesses the happy facility of proceeding without regard to constitutional limitations, as numerous precedents testify. When as sedate and as able a journal as the News, and a would-be friend of the government at that, begins to kick, the calling together of the cabinet in "hot haste" is a legitimate consequence. The egotistical remark of the News, therefore, is warranted, and the deprecatory and sneering logic of the World has no more force than "Garth Grafton" Slop. We have predicted that the government would start the political pap bottle a going this year, and the evidence of it is no longer dubious, and as we are not ungenerous we trust that the World's modicum will be slightly in excess of thirteen fifty.
